

“All disturbance and chaos folds up in the teeth of truth. It's the only thing that can go through 16-inch armor plate.”

For the Future of the Religion, All Scientologists Must Be Familiar With LRH's Intentions Regarding the Governance of Scientology

A Call To Keep Scientology Working By Following LRH's Intention for its Governance

This call is made by senior Scientologists in good standing.

"Organizations do not bleed, they do not breathe; they do behave oddly enough like a single organism... But when the individuals in it cease to behave as individuals, cease to have their own thoughts, cease to be capable of their own initiative, cease to be able to take their own action, then the whole organization boils down to just one man, and he's the only one who could make a decision ... the only one who could act. ... [but an organization] is composed of individuals who observe and who look ... The only thing I am trying to teach you is to look." (Emphasis added; LRH, 15 July 1957, Scientology and Effective Knowledge – PRO TRs Course Lecture)

Steep gradient warning! Hang in there. This is a complex subject – but vital to grasp for the survival of Scientology. The failure of individuals to confront and learn this subject is why LRH intent was not implemented upon his death and why Scientologists must now bypass. Visit our website for more information and better gradients.

Purpose: To ensure that LRH intention for oversight of the boards of directors and trustees governing Scientology are truly independent and compliant with state law and IRS tax-exempt regulations.

Situation: LRH intended one-man rule to cease at his death, to be replaced by seven boards of trustees and directors in three independent corporations, CST, RTC, and CSI (the "mother church") with multiple cross checks and balances.

LRH designed this structure as a safeguard to ensure the survival of Scientology.

Evidence exists that the independence of CST has been eliminated and its boards of trustees and directors dominated by David Miscavige from his lower-echelon position in RTC, thereby undermining LRH's intent, violating state law and IRS regulations, and putting at risk our valued and highly fought for tax-exempt status.

Solution: An independent "Compliance Audit" by a reputable, external entity (accounting firm with legal expertise) specializing in religious tax-exempt organizations to ensure that criteria established by LRH and required by state law and IRS regulations are fully implemented and that any non-compliance is corrected immediately.

The future of Scientology is in our hands. Back up LRH.
